

HELLO NEWS LETTER

This month's newsletter is the first of 2026, a Happy New Year to all.

I've got some big changes happening to the site as well as well as a new service.

I now sell digital stamps for Procreate (and will be working on adding them to Adobe and Affinity apps later on in the year).

I now do art commissions, all the info can be found on my website (under the Commissions page). You can find a link offer will take you to the main commission page.

What's it about?

Intro/Why I Made These:

As an artist who lives in the world of full-page doodles, character creation, and comic book effects, I often found myself reaching for tools that matched my specific, playful flow. I wanted brushes that felt like natural extensions of my own hand—quick, fun, and bursting with personality.

So, I decided to build them myself!

This collection is born directly from my daily practice. Every stamp is designed to speed up your sketching, add instant charm, and keep that cartoon-doodle energy flowing from the first sketch to the final polish.

All packs are crafted for Procreate and drip with my signature style: rounded, bouncy, and full of life.

Doodle Stamps

- What it is: The essential treasury of random awesomeness. Packed with quirky icons, decorative borders, tiny objects, and fillers that bring life to any blank page.
- Why I made it: These are the secret sauce to my full-page doodles. When you need to fill space with charm and maintain a cohesive, hand-drawn vibe, these stamps do the heavy lifting.

ART COMMISSION

I'm thrilled to share some exciting news! After careful consideration and preparation, I'm officially opening my doors to art commissions.

This has been a long-awaited dream, and I'm genuinely delighted to offer my artistic skills to bring your ideas, stories and special moments to life. Whether it's a character you've imagined for years, a heartfelt gift for someone special or a custom piece for your home or project, I'd love to collaborate with you.
